RED LIGHT THERAPY

Red Light Therapy naturally stimulate the body (at the cellular level) to produce more ATP (energy).

This increased production is a significant component of cellular regeneration which is responsible for improving and boosting new cell growth.

It has been proven that this biochemical reaction results in a multitude of health benefits.

SKIN BENEFITS

Red light technology is made up of powerful and concentrated red and near-infrared wavelengths that penetrate and stimulate the skin at the cellular level.

It is extremely effective for boosting intradermal collagen production which results in the following all natural outcomes with no pain, side effects or downtime.

- Reduced fine lines and wrinkles
- Reduced inflammation
- Reduced redness and pigmentation
- Reduced acne breakouts
